

DOHENY PITCHES FINELY.

CHICAGO CANNOT HIT HIM AND THE NEW YORK WIN.

Brooklyn's Harry St. Louis Under a Pile of Runs.—(Continued) Stopped the Philadelphia's winning streak yesterday. The New York's played fast ball yesterday, and as Doheny pitched in masterly fashion the Chicagoans were easily put to sleep. The Brooklynians defeated the Clevelanders. These two victories had quite a bearing on the standing of the clubs, for they were instrumental in pushing the Chicagoans back into ninth place and pulling the Clevelanders out of the lead. The Baltimoreans now have the coveted place at the top, their victory over Pittsburgh helping them immensely. The Cincinnati's stopped the downward rush of the Philadelphia's and the Bostonians won a heavy hitting game from the Louisville's. The results:

New York, 10; Chicago, 3.
Brooklyn, 15; St. Louis, 4.
Boston, 4; Louisville, 11.
Cincinnati, 3; Philadelphia, 4.
Baltimore, 9; Pittsburgh, 4.
Washington, 5; Cleveland, 3.

Under Anson, the Runaway Colt, came to the Polo ground yesterday with his back of warriors ready to jump on the New Yorks, but instead of accomplishing his purpose he met with wild-eyed defeat in his worst form. Irwin put young Ed Doheny in to pitch, and the Vermont boy hit the Chicagoans at his mercy from start to finish. He finished by striking off his left-hand two wickets and shoots, three of which were scratches and three were batted out by Anson himself.

With the fact in view that the Chicagoans today contain some of the heaviest hitters in the League, Doheny's work was all the more praiseworthy, and as he was a strikingly young man, called "Dangerous" Dahlen, the 3,000 cranks cheered him enthusiastically. The New Yorks played magnificently in the field, which did much toward lifting the young pitcher with that confidence which means everything in baseball. Bill Clark's first base play was of the first description, his catch of a low liner and in front of second, and his double play on the star play of the game. His hitting was excellent, too, both of his singles coming at the right time. Gleason's play was also of the first class, while Van Halteren pulled down a couple of hard drives in the fourth and fifth innings, the latter of which was a home run. Doheny's batting order—that is, the first four men—were clearly puzzled by Friend, as they are all left-hand batters, and they failed to score for him. Chicago pitcher a lesson in clean hitting. Harry Davis led in this respect with a three-lagger and a home run. He was a real hard hitter, and the fielders had hard disease after chasing him.

The Chicagoans played a sloppy fielding game, all things considered. Fred Pfeffer, however, who was signed to pitch yesterday morning, played good ball. He only had three chances, all of which were easy, but he hit in the hardest drive he ever made, a home run. He was a real hard hitter, and the fielders had hard disease after chasing him.

WHAT WHEELMAN SAID ABOUT THE CASE OF HADFIELD.

The New York Club, which will take legal steps to prevent the distribution of the Milwaukee Prize—Referee Pitman Says He Will Not Change His Decision.

It was said yesterday that Charles Hadfield, the victor of the Milwaukee road race on Decoration Day, contemplated taking legal steps to prevent the Metropolitan Association of Cycling Clubs from distributing the prizes until he received a hearing. Hadfield's position was widely discussed by riders yesterday, and while racing men sympathized with him, they admitted that the Milwaukee road race was a fair one, and that the Milwaukee road race was a fair one, and that the Milwaukee road race was a fair one.

A prominent rider told the reporter that Hadfield, who had been training conscientiously for the race, had been told by the Milwaukee road race committee that he was not to be allowed to race. He was told that he was not to be allowed to race, and that he was not to be allowed to race.

A colored man who attended the Cuban Giants' game at Madison Square Garden on Saturday night, told the reporter that he was told by the Milwaukee road race committee that he was not to be allowed to race. He was told that he was not to be allowed to race, and that he was not to be allowed to race.
